It's Time for a Cool Change

In 1979 The Little River Band released a song called Cool Change. It was the kind of soft rock I grew up with; its words saying that it's time for the winds to bring a cool change from the life that was becoming normal for the author of the song.

I've experienced cool changes. Following a career in banking since leaving school a month after turning 16, I entered Carey as a fresh-faced ideological 29-year-old in 2009. Our family of three children (we had our fourth while at Carey) relocated from Wellington for my career change. It was a cool change.

Almost nine years ago we were called to Windsor Park Baptist Church on the North Shore from our comfortable existence in provincial New Plymouth; it was a cool change, albeit a little more difficult with our eldest daughter being 14, and having just finished building our dream home (my wife felt the slight chill of that wind!).

Carey is about to enter a time where the winds of change will gently blow. Charles Hewlett concludes his role as Principal after eight years (and 13 altogether at Carey) at the end of Semester Two and the board are instigating a small team who will be responsible for the recruitment process of a new principal. It feels so comfortable having Charles around, and the winds of change will blow gently through this year and next as we go through this process. As Chair of the Carey board I'll be responsible for communicating progress as we move into a new season.

What I know is that when the cool winds of change have breezed through my life, God has been right there with me. Thank God for that, and I know that God will be with us as we experience the winds of change at Carey because the College is in His hands. Let's set sail and enjoy the ride!
