SEARCH TIPS

For unknown characters, multiple spellings, or various endings, you can use truncation or wildcard symbols.

For example, counselling can be spelled in two ways, depending on English or American spelling. Tūhuratanga search favours the American spelling. Therefore, you can replace the second 'l' with a wildcard (a hash # symbol, "counsel#ing"). This will search for words with another letter or no letter in place of the #. This enables searching of both spelling variants, American and English.

For various word endings, you use an asterisk, * (i.e., "teen*"). The search will include "teen," "teens," "teenagers," "teenage," etc., in the results.

Also, there are alternative terms for "teenager." If we first go to Advanced Search, then separate the two concepts (counsel#ing and teenager), then add some of the popular terms suggested, this should give us a comprehensive list of articles.

See below for an example:

AND - teen* or adolesc* or young adult* Select a Field (optional) Clear ?

You can also select the Subject Terms field. This will boost the importance of the subject and refine the search.

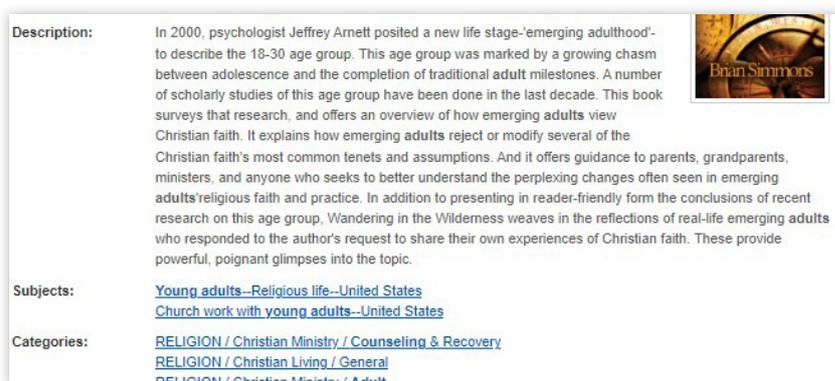

Searching: Discovery Service for Carey Baptist College

As an alternative, you could find an article on the results list that looks useful for your research to get ideas for the relevant combination of descriptors or subjects to use in a further search.

Description: In 2000, psychologist Jeffrey Arnett posited a new life stage-'emerging adulthood'-to describe the 18-30 age group. This age group was marked by a growing chasm between adolescence and the completion of traditional adult milestones. A number of scholarly studies of this age group have been done in the last decade. This book surveys that research, and offers an overview of how emerging adults view Christian faith. It explains how emerging adults reject or modify several of the Christian faith's most common tenets and assumptions. And it offers guidance to parents, grandparents, ministers, and anyone who seeks to better understand the perplexing changes often seen in emerging adults' religious faith and practice. In addition to presenting in reader-friendly form the conclusions of recent research on this age group, Wandering in the Wilderness weaves in the reflections of real-life emerging adults who responded to the author's request to share their own experiences of Christian faith. These provide powerful, poignant glimpses into the topic.

BIBLE CITATION SEARCHING

Think of the content and themes of the Bible passage itself. For example, In Mark chapter 3 verses 1 to 6, Jesus heals a man with a withered hand on the Sabbath, even though this act is condemned by the Pharisees, who then plot to kill Jesus. This passage is about the authority of Jesus, Sabbath laws, healing, and more. The episode is sometimes called the healing controversy. Any key words or topics from this description may be used in a search.
